STATE BANK HEAD NAMED IN SUIT DEPOSED CHURCHMAN MAKES RADICAL SPEECH

Government Attacked At Negro Meet

Former Churchman Addresses
Meeting of Negro Labor Council

OFFICERS ATTEND MEETING

Speaker, Garbed in Clerical Gown
During Radical
Address

(By Universal Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—In a speech bristling with charges against capitalism William Montgomery Brown recently deposed bishop of the Episcopal church addressed the American Negro Labor Council in session here tonight.

Enough charges against established government to satisfy the most radical red were hurled by the former bishop. He included in his scathing charges among other statements the following:

"Down with imperialism. Down with capitalism. Long live communism. Down with race hatred. Long live the universal brotherhood of man. Down with war. Long live the right here he was drowned out by loud cheering.

"Down with Jim Crowism," continued the speaker and brought the gathering to their feet. He continued.

"Long live the American negro on an equal footing with the Caucasian race."

The speaker was garbed in a clerical gown. In starting his speech he stated that it was the first public appearance he had made since "he was railroaded, steam rolled, Jim Crowed out of the church."

More than twenty officers in plain clothes as well as a dozen or more white communists were attendance at the meeting.

Probation Is Over Wife Now Asking Divorce

(By Universal Service)

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Oct. 27.—Suit for divorce was filed here today by Mrs. "Effie" Widener Leidy, who eloped
in January, 1920, to Knoxville, Tenn., with Carlo Leidy, a University of Pennsylvania student, then 21.

Mrs. Leidy is a daughter of Joseph E. Widener, millionaire art collector, who for more than a year kept the couple "on probation," by requiring the son-in-law to work in a foundry at Berwick, Pa., to prove his worthiness for his daughter.

They have a daughter, born August 19, 1923.

After the passing of the period of probation the couple were received into the Widener family and for more than a year have been living in comparative ease.

Rumors of a divorce have been current for more than a year and were heightened when Mrs. Leidy sailed alone for Europe in April of last year. She denied at the time, however, that she intended to get a divorce abroad. Meanwhile Leidy was advanced to a position in the New York office of the American Car and Foundry company.

"I do not know of any trouble between them, but they are young,
and one never can tell," said Dr.
Joseph Leidy, father of the young husband, today.

Miss Sara Spires has been confined to her home for several days with an attack of the grippe. Miss Spires is a teacher at the Nystrom school.

LOCAL WHARF WELL LOCATED FOR SHIPPING

Before the series of articles that the RECORD-HERALD is running in relation to the handling of the city wharf is ended disclosures will be made, and people will be involved that will be an eye-opener to the residents of Richmond.

(INSTALLMENT NO. 12)

It is true that mistakes were made in the building of the present wharf and wharfed, and these mistakes are generally admitted, but everyone makes mistakes at times, but in spite of these mistakes, Richmond has a very valuable property on its water front.

Such a property is very scarce on the San Francisco bay, and there is big demand for such facilities from large shipping concerns. There is not another warehouse of the bay, so far as the Record-Herald has been able to learn that has the advantages of the Richmond Municipal Wharf.

It is impossible to take combustible material and store it on any of the San Francisco wharves over night.
If the ship is not at the dock ready for loading, the cargo must be kept on barges in the stream, and attended by a tug boat, which involves a large expense. None of this expense is necessary at the local wharf.

It is economical to handle goods at the local wharf. Steamships will go to any wharf in the San Francisco bay area and pick up cargoes.

And yet notwithstanding all of this

TRAIN CRUSHES PORT COSTA MAN

PORT COSTA, Oct. 27.—J. E. Deavers, 28, Port Costa railroad man, is lying in a critical condition in the Southern Pacific hospital in San Francisco, suffering from injuries sustained when he was caught between a caboose and an outfit car while coupling cars coming from the Benicia Ferry early this morning. He was jammed in such a way that his head took the brunt of the crash. It is believed his skull was fractured, and hope for his recovery is slight.

He was rushed to San Francisco in a special train made up at Port Costa. Deavers is married and makes his home in Benicia.

BANDITS STEAL OLD HEIRLOOMS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Old Spanish heirloom jewels were stolen from Roman Lopez-Forment, importer yesterday when he admitted two strangers to his home at 71 Twin Peaks boulevard, San Francisco.
After binding and gagging Forment his son-in-law Manuel Floret, and the latter's brother Eduardo Floret the bandits walked calmly out of the house with the loot wrapped in a newspaper. The jewels, which were heirlooms of one of the oldest and proudest families of Spain were valued at $15,000.

The two robbers had come to the home on the pretense of buying the jewelry which had been advertised for sale on Monday morning. Although they were able to describe the two men the police are left without a clue.

National event, local plans were made to fall in line with the general observance throughout the country, which falls during the week of November 8th.

Special stress will be laid upon the Father and Son banquets, which by arrangement will all take place at various churches, on the evening of Thursday November 12th; and Father auspices of the Y. M. C. A. six years ago. Last year over 1500 fathers and sons attended the various functions here. Dr. W. W. Giberson heads the committee in charge of arrangements, and General Secretary

Distillery Again Brought Into The Golett Testimony

C. E. Peacock, one of the four defendants in the trial of the Golett Oil swindle case, resumed the witness stand for the fifth day since the defense opened today in Superior Judge Fred V. Wood's court. He continued his story of the activities of C. E. Reeves, Franklin P. Davis, Mrs. Peggy Reeves and himself. He is still under cross examination. The defendants are represented by Pierce and Carlson, Richmond attorneys.

A charge of conspiracy to commit grand larceny through the sale of stocks faces the four defendants and James Gough, bunco man. Gough, who pleaded guilty and has been sentenced to San Quentin, was represented as a confidential man for E.
L. Doherty. The defendants are said to have told prospective customers that the company was a holding concern for a gigantic oil company merger, headed by Doherty.

When he was taken into custody, Gough told authorities that he and his associates were endeavoring to raise a million dollars to conduct a gigantic bootlegging scheme. It was brought out in the trial that they had purchased a distillery and alcohol in Mexico. Monday afternoon the defense called Raleigh P.
Trimble, Los Angeles club man and financier, to the stand and he testified to having sold the distillery to Gough. He said that he did not know any of the defendants in the trial, and that he was forced to buy the distillery back from Gough as he had made himself obnoxious and that he and his associates were warned to watch him.

BUSINESS WOMEN HOLD MEETING

A delightful luncheon at the Butterfly tea room was enjoyed yesterday noon by the Business and Professional Women's club. Interest centered around the beautiful corsage of violet presented to Mrs. Helny Campbell, who was chairman of the day. Mystery still surrounds their sender. Dr. Powell presided at the short business transaction that was carried on. Twenty two of the club's members were present.

The next meeting will take place on November 10.

SEARCH HERE FOR SUSPECT IN SHOOTING

An extensive search of the Mexican quarters of Richmond and other Contra Costa points by Richmond police and county officials all day yesterday failed to unearth any trace of Luis Carrela, 35, employee of the West Berkeley oil company, who is being sought by Berkeley authorities as the slayer of Christian Bernardino, 28, in a street fight in West Berkeley Monday night.

Immediately after the slaying of Bernardino, the suspect, who was in company with Bernardino just before the murder, disappeared and is believed by Berkeley police to have fled to Richmond or the near vicinity of this city. The description of the man was given the local authorities and a minute search of all Mexican quarters in this county was made.
The efforts to locate him here, however, proved fruitless.

While the search for Carrela is in progress the authorities have in custody for questioning Mrs. Isabel Bernardino, 26, wife of the slain man, and reported to have been the object of the quarrel between the two men.

Carrela, who is said to have been drinking, met Bernardino as the latter was waiting for a street car at Fourth street and University avenue, according to the police report. Bernardino is said to have accused Carrela with intimacy with his wife, precipitating a fight. While Bernardino attempted to stab Carrela with a pocket knife the latter drew a revolver and shot his rival dead, according to information gived by police.

night without a reply from the Greek Government. League officials tonight stated that the council would not meet until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning and that no action would be tak-

Greeks additional time to file their acceptance.

The Bulgarians acceptance of the councils ultimatum was handed to the league this afternoon.

Government stated today that before the decision of its answer to the discuss the number of casualties in the recent uprising. The Arabs state that there are at least 8,000 dead.

This figure however is believed to be slightly exaggerated. The inhabitants of the city are said to be in a panic with a great deal of looting going on.

Official Is Named In Big Damage Suit

Malicious Prosecution Is Charged
Against State Bank
Superintendent

$50,000 DAMAGES ASKED

Joseph H. Goldman Former Appraiser Files Sensational Suit

Charging malicious prosecution, Joseph H. Goldman, former appraiser in the office of John Franklin Johnson, state superintendent of banks, yesterday instituted suit for $50,- 600 damages against Johnson.

Goldman claims that Johnson had him arrested last summer because he knew too much about the deals that caused the State Banking department row raging around the head of Johnson at that time. At the time he was arrested, Goldman was charged by Johnson of having made false appraisals. He was acquitted on July 3.

John R. Jones, council for Goldman, said yesterday that the damage suit would again bring the row upon Johnson's head. This affair was over Johnson's alleged interest in Wright-wood, a realty development in the San Bernardino mountains.

It is claimed that Johnson used his influence and office to negotiate a loan from the Pacific Southwest Trust company of Los Angeles on the Wrightwood property. Johnson

ROADS AS AMERICANIZERS

The American automobilist is "seeing the country." There is no doubt about that. He is enjoying life in the great outdoors where the air and the sunshine are healthful. Every family in America of moderate circumstances now has some sort of an automobile. Speaking of the situation in the west recently, Secretary Hoover said:

"I found them camping out in their automobiles in the hills and valleys west of the Mississippi. It is estimated that 5000 are so encamped."

What is true of the west is true of the east and the south from Florida to New England and even into Canada. The people are learning something about the beauties of their country first hand, and better than this, they are learning something about their fellow countrymen.

Secretary of Agriculture Jardine recently stated: "Communication is a great equalizer." As the people in the east go west and the people from the west drive east, as the southerners whiz north and the northerners glide south over the perfect system of roads that is rapidly being completed over the country, they are learning that most Americans are pretty much the same; that a New Englander and a southerner, a Hoosier and an Oregonian are a great deal alike under the surface, that all have the same emotions, the same good points, and the same (let us hope) very few weaknesses.

In short, we are rapidly leaving the localized stage and becoming actually Americanized. Hard surfaced roads are bringing this condition about and if they break down sectional prejudices and cement us into one American community they will be worth all that they may cost, and ten times over.

ATTACKS ON NATIONAL LOYALTY

If an American urges national preparedness he is militaristic. If he talks about dangers from any other country he is a "jingoist." If he is successful and aids prosperity he is an "imperialist." If he depreciates socialism and communism he is a "back number." If he loves home and family and country, he is "reactionary." These expressions have all been coined to destroy the great attitude of national loyalty and patriotism upon which every sound government is founded, and the destruction of which attitude means the destruction of all such sound governments.—New York Commercial.

California gets the beauty prize, but Florida's real estate profits can also show a pretty figure.—Springfield Republican.

So far as collecting any money is concerned every day in every way Uncle Sam seems to be getting wetter and wetter.

The Turks are said to be murdering Christian folks again which indicates that they are getting as up to date as New York and Chicago.

This age of substitutes has not yet reached the point where a flat head can be substituted for a level head.—Arkansas Gazette.

After all, the United States isn't in a very good position to sneer at China because it is overrun with bandits.—Detroit Free Press.

What the future has in store for you depends in large measure on what you place in store for the future.—Fergus Falls Journal.

Everything From Tinkling Bells to Tiny Timepieces and Saucy Dolls' Heads Trims the New Garters.

IT seems to be the ambition of everyone who deals in women's apparel—milliners, dressmakers, storekeepers and the rest—to think of some new sort of "set." Thus the milliners offers hats and scarfs, and make profit on two articles instead of one. Then there sets consisting of belts and hats, stockings and sweaters, neckties and hats, parasols and hats, purses and parasols. One of the newest of sets is that which weds the garter and the bandeau. Some of the shops are showing these sets made, especially for tennis players. In the garter the elastic goes all the way around, while in the bandeau the elastic is inserted only at the back. The sketch shows a set of this sort in blue and tan striped ribbon. Below this is another sort of set—purple rubber garters trimmed with little vast-colored rubber flowers with purple rubber caps similarly trimmed. This of course, is a bathing set.

Of course garters have assumed enormous importance lately, and the honor of selling them seems to be claimed by everyone. You see tempting little garters in the shoe-store windows and the shoe dealer feels that it would be a good plan to have just the right sort of garter to go with every shoe. At the ribbon counter you find garters—to show you how you can make your own from the tempting ribbons. Notion departments have garters and so does the little gift shop, and you'll find them even in the corset department.

Strictly speaking one could not regard garters as underwear—someone recently pointed out—for with most American girls they are no more out of sight than hats or neck scarfs. And it is quite important that they should go harmoniously with the rest of the costume. Some women like garters to be as inconspicuous as short skirts will permit and have them as much as possible to match their stockings. Others like to have them match their frocks. You may share the opinion that really conspicuous garters can never be in good taste. So you may object to those that twinkle with rhinestone ornaments—and even more so to those that are trimmed with tiny tinkling bells. Many of the new garters show saucy little dolls' heads. In place of the wrist watch some women are wearing garter watches. These may be fastened on different colored elastic to match the frock.

At top, garter and tennis bandeau in blue and white stripes to match. Under that, bathing cap and garter to match, trimmed with little rubber flowers. Then there is a garter with a watch—with different-colored elastic to match the frock—a garter with diamond initials, an eon lace garter encrusted in pearls, and a garter of silver cloth trimmed with gold's head and ornate rosette.

Where It Started

SMOKELESS POWDER

Smokeless powder was invented by Vieille, a Frenchman, in 1886. His discovery is credited as being the greatest step of advance in the art of warfare since the invention of gunpowder itself, as it enabled troops to fire from concealed positions without exposing themselves to a return fire.

SATIN

This material was first made in China; the date of its origin is uncertain. The name is derived from a Chinese word which may be rendered in English type by the letters "Sai-tun"; this as is as near as possible to come to the pronunciation.

WATERMELON IN APPETIZER

Do you ever include chunks of watermelon in the fruit appetizer for a hot day luncheon? It is delicious, and combines with any mixture of orange, grapefruit, peach, pear, banana and apple. It helps to sweeten the fruit too.

Rice with Vegetables: Wash a knuckle of beef or a soup bone and place it in three quarts of cold water for one hour. Put it on the stove and let it gradually heat, then simmer for two hours. Any scum rising when it begins to boil should be skimmed off. Have one-half cup each of chopped onion, cabbage, carrot, tomatoes and one-fourth cup of turnip, three cloves, a pinch of cayenne black pepper and one and one-half teaspoonsful of salt. Add these to the simmering meat and let boil for one hour then add a cup of rice and a bay-leaf. Boil, stirring occasionally until the rice is cooked. When the kettle is closely covered there is little need of adding water; if it is necessary, it must be boiling.

ACTRESS PROVES RIDING ABILITY IN LOCAL FILM

"She rides like a Texas cowboy!" That was the relieved expression of the entire George Fitzmaurice company while on location filming fox hunt scenes for "The Dark Angel" a picturization of the famous stage play by H. B. Trevelyan, which First National will offer at the California theatre today and tomorrow.

Vilma Banky, the beautiful Budapest star recently imported by Samuel Goldwyn, plays the leading role opposite Ronald Colman.

The scenario, as prepared by Frances Marion, required some skillful riding at the hunt on the part of Miss Banky—not only sensational hedge and water jumps, but a dangerous fall as well.

Miss Banky's ability as a rider was entirely an unknown quantity to her director. She had been told of the impending hunt and appeared nonchalant regarding its hazards. Fitzmaurice admits that he had some misgivings on the subject.

When the time came for her performance, however, she surprised the entire assemblage, which included the pick of southern California's expert riders. Sitting a fractious mount which reared dangerously with her, she brought him to his feet gracefully without losing her pretty smile.

The dangerous jumps and finally the fall, she negotiated with all the sang froid of Tom Mix himself. She was questioned regarding her amazing ability as a horse-woman and explained that riding is practically the only outdoor recreation indulged in by Hungarian ladies and that she has ever been perfectly at home in the saddle.

Other features on the same program include the latest novelty "In the Radio Community Singing" with Larry Canelo at the mammoth organ, "Baby Be Good" a juvenile comedy, International News.

Scene From "The Dark Angel" Showing at The California

Rejected Woman Now Showing at The Richmond

"The Rejected Woman" comes to the Richmond theatre today for an engagement of two days as the principal screen feature.

This is undoubtedly the most pretentious production that Distinctive has so far contributed to the Goldwyn program. Its plot sweeps from the snow-covered wastes of northern Canada to the haunts of the idle rich in New York.

Landing "somewhere in Canada" from his airplane John Leslie meets Diane Duprez. During a walk they are overtaken by a snow storm. Leslie falls down a slippery slope and is injured. The two are forced to seek shelter over night in a cabin. Diane's father is furious and after Leslie has returned to New York, he sends Diane to the same place, "until the folks forget the scandal." They are married, but when Leslie hears that another man has been paying Diane's bills he leaves her. When you see the picture you will see how everything is eventually explained.

Alma Rubens and Conrad Nagel have the featured roles and are supported by a brilliant cast of capable screen players.

Other features on the same program include "Great Guns," a Bobby Vernon comedy; "Prizma," the screen's magazine.

Rev. and Mrs. Haney In New Parsonage

Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Haney of the First Presbyterian church will be "at home" in their new parsonage, 136 Twelfth street tomorrow between 3 and 5 in the afternoon and between 8 and 10 in the evening. All friends and members of the church are cordially invited to attend the house warming.

A group of members of the church will assist as hostesses for the affair.

The chairman of the day will be John A. Long and Jack Barry will take charge of the program. A prize will be awarded to the speaker who can make the seldom-smiling members laugh.

P. G. and E. Plans Construction Of Another Power Dam

Announcement is made by F. A. Leach, Jr., vice president and general manager of the Pacific Gas & Electric company, that orders have been approved for the construction of the Pit No. 4 dam and intake which is the next project in the company's power development program on Pit River in Shasta county. This diversion dam is to be located about one and one-half miles down stream from the Pit No. 3 power house which was placed in operation July 18th of this year.

The company's engineering department has completed detail plans and designs for the dam and tunnel intake structure. The new dam will raise the water level in Pit River forty feet and will have a crest length or width of 410 feet. The raising of this water level will form a reservoir of 1,550 acre feet, backing the water up to the Pit No. 3 plant; thereby making a second large lake in Pit River canyon.

Construction of this dam calls for an expenditure of $1,750,000.00. Cost of the entire Pit No. 4 project, exclusive of railroad and transmission lines is estimated at $14,500,000.00. The work approved will be carried on through the winter months, employing at a minimum of 300 men.

About ten miles of additional railroad construction, costing $530,000.00 will be extended from the Pit No. 3 power house down the Pit River canyon to the Pit No. 4 Power House Site. The road about four miles in length has been completed to the dam site. This Pit No. 4 development is the fifth of a series of eight plants to be built in the Pit River section, Shasta county, at a total cost in excess of $100,000,000.00. Hat Creek No. 1 and No. 2, Pit No. 1 and No. 3 Power Houses with an installed capacity of 235,000 horsepower have been completed and are now in operation.

O. W. Peterson, engineer of general construction and the men who handled the construction of the Pit No. 3 job under the direction of P. M. Downing, vice-president in charge of electrical construction and operation, will be in charge of the construction of the Pit No. 4 plant.

Undersheriff Veale Addresses Lions

Limbering Up For Big Sciote Dancing Party

We have with us—well guess, can't?

Take another look at the prosperity line and then guess again. Right the first time.

As you know he is one of the committee members that is arranging the big barn dance which the Richmond Pyramid of Sciotes is giving on Saturday night at East Shore Park.

Dick has been trying to master the intricate steps of the Charleston and the camera caught him just as he was trying to get enough weight above his head in order to swing his feet up into the air.

"It's hard to swing feet like these into the air," he says "but there is one advantage. Once they are started there is nothing in the world that can stop them."

Incidentally this is just a reminder that the dance of the Sciotes will be one of the most outstanding on the social calendar for this year.

No efforts are being spared by the committee to make the "Rube" affair one of the gayest Halloween affairs in the bay regions. Hick costumes are to be in vogue.

Music is to be of the best obtainable and the committee is extending itself to make the dance a banner attraction.

INFANT TWINS ARE BURIED

Sculptor Suggested To Design Marker For Diablo Peak

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Jo Mora, California's noted sculptor, will probably be engaged to design the indicator and monument that is to be erected by the Mount Diablo Park commission, at the summit of the landmark of Contra Costa county.

Choice of Mora was unanimous with the members of the commission, which held a special meeting here in the offices of Lewis F. Byington, member of the body. Mora is to be asked within the next few days to prepare an appropriate design for the proposed indicator and monument.

Several suggestions have already been made for the general design of the indicator, the most frequent being that it be modelled after the form of a Grecian column at the top of which could be countersunk a bronze plaque on which might be marked radiating lines indicating the many points of interest in Central California, which are visible from the 4000 foot summit of Mount Diablo.

So that the indicator and monument would always be available for the use of the United States Geodetic Survey at any time it might wish to re-occupy the point of triangulation at the peak of the mountain, the center of the column must be hollow, providing a bore of about four inches in diameter for the full length of the column.

At its base must be four openings giving access to the copper bolt marking the point of crossing of the Mount Diablo base and meridian lines, which was placed there in 1851. It was at that time, also, that the old brick "chimney" which now stands at the top of the mountain was first erected. The new indicator and monument will replace this original monument.

Completion of the new indicator and monument and its unveiling will provide an occasion of interest throughout Central California, according to members of the commission, Mount Diablo is not merely a landmark of Contra Costa county, point out the commissioners, but is one of the most noted peaks in the west.

Thousands of persons visit its summit every year, a point from which one may look out over thirty-eight of California's counties. With the completion of the Walnut Creek road to the summit tourists are now provided with an all-year route.

Those who attended last evening's meeting of the commission were: J. F. Hoey, Martinez, president; Mrs. C. L. Dodge, Martinez, secretary; R. M. Sims, Berkeley, Lewis F. Byington, San Francisco, representing the commission. Others who were present at the special invitation of the president were: Frank deLisle, Piedmont, State Senator Will R. Sharkey, Martinez; Captain Paul C. Whitney in charge of the Pacific Coast operations of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Captain Clem L. Garner of the same government department and commander of the U. S. S. Discoverer.

Thomas Nesbitt is now visiting at the home of his mother Mrs. Isabella Nesbitt, 227 Seventh street. He is stationed at San Pedro on the U. S. S. Colorado.

NEEDY EX-SERVICE MAN'S STREET SINGING WINS HIM CHANCE ON LONDON STAGE

Ernest Whitfield, an ex-service man of Bloomsbury, England, was heard singing on the street by Nikita Balief, director of the "Chauve Souris," with the result that Whitfield was offered a place with the famous Russian company with the opportunity to have his voice trained by Gregori Makareff, noted basso of the old Moscow Opera House. Whitfield had just been able to keep body and soul together by his street songs until he came to the Russian director's attention. The photograph shows the singer, (at left) and the director.

Meanest Person in World Poison Boy's Dog Here

Last week everything was sunshiny and pleasant for thirteen year old Rayzen Van Marter a student at the Roosevelt Junior high school. Today everything is dark and gloomy and nothing seems just exactly right.

And all because— Someone just about as mean as they make them, robbed him of his pet.

Rayzen took a great deal of pride and joy in his collie dog "Laddie." One of the greatest joys of his life was to take Laddie out for a run and only those who really appreciate a good dog, know what this really means.

But last Saturday afternoon Laddie came home looked at his master with a mysterious appealing look in his brown eyes and a few minutes later he was dead. Not much of an investigation was necessary to find that the dog had been poisoned.

Rayzen can't understand why anyone would want to poison his dog, because he was one of the most inoffensive and companionable dogs that ever lived.

Sunday after church, Rayzen got out his bicycle to take his usual run with Laddie. Then suddenly he realized that Laddie would never again accompany him on any of his rides.

Blinded with tears Rayzen started out on his ride. A short time later he was taken to the emergency hospital, where a cut in his arm required several stitches. Several other bruises and scratches had to be treated.

Rayzen, so preoccupied with thoughts of his dog did not realize where he was going and the first thing he knew his bicycle had crashed.

School, friends and life in general doesn't mean much to Rayzen these days and his parents are now busy trying to find him another dog who in some measure may take the place of Laddie.

Police are investigating the poisoning, but there is little hopes of finding those responsible for the death of the dog. According to Chief of Police Dan Cox, the poisoning of an animal or placing poison or other articles so that they will cause the death of an animal is a felony.

FRANKUP SUSPECTED
New York, Oct. 27.—It is expected that official investigation will come after the alleged boxing match between Harry Williams and Floyd Johnson in New Jersey last night. The fans let out an awful squawk when the towel came flying from the corner. All concerned seemed stunned and officials are preparing to look into the matter.

BEST FOOTBALL
Experts glancing over this year's football games declare that at the present time the eleven's thrown on the field this season are playing for better football than ever before. There are hundreds better than average teams and thousands of better than average players. Another fact is also encouraging. There are far less accidents.

LANDIS SAFE
NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—There is little likelihood that anything will be done to oust Judge Landis, despite the criticism of "exar rule" of baseball, which have been flung about by some club owners. Judge Landis' term does not expire for a year and even if it did the American and National leagues could never agree on what to do.

RUTH LOSES HEAPS
NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Babe Ruth has given Collier's weekly an interview setting forth how he lost $500,000. The story reveals that he was fined $9000 by Miller Huggins on one occasion and $5000 on another. He lost a total of $250,000 on gambling and such sports and an equal amount on high living. He lost $35,000 on one race.

CARDS PREPARE
STANFORD, Oct. 27.—Pop Warner's Cardinals are preparing this week to point for Smith's Bears, with only one real hard game in the offing, that with the Huskies of Washington on November 7. This game is expected to give Stanford eleven little trouble so Warner is devoting

COLONELS WIN HOT SLUGFEST FROM ELLISON

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—The San Francisco Seals and the Louisville Colonels resorted to wildness in their game of the little world series at Recreation park today. And after the wild, wild Seals got through with said game they weren't wild any longer. They were beaten 11 to 9, thus bringing the series to; Seals 4 games won and Colonels 2 games won.

It was not Louisville's fault that she won. They did little playing and still less hitting. It was the uncontrollability of Doug McWeeney, foremost hurler of the Pacific Coast league that gave Louisville hopes of taking the pennant back to the Blue Grass state. They scored ten runs on four hits. McWeeney was ably assisted in dropping the game by the errors of Hal Rhyne and Boss Bert Ellison.

The Seals went into the game like wild men, scoring four runs. They seemed to have the number of the southerners tucked away someplace but the tucking broke loose in the fifth inning and it was not until after the game was lost that the wonderlust of the circling Colonels was checked. At least the sixth inning was scoreless, neither team even threatening to send a runner pattering home.

advantages that Richmond has with its municipal wharf, it has gone behind nearly $37,000 since it was first operated.

Last year the deficit was nearly $9,000, whereas the City of Richmond should have had a large profit. Although there is large storage space at the docks, there is practically no storage goods. There must be a reason for it.

On the 166,000 tons of goods that passed over the municipal wharf last year, if the City of Richmond had received from the business what many large firms would be glad to pay, it would have had a net profit of over $24,000 instead of a big loss.

If storage business had been developed, along the lines of cargoes that come from European points, and ores, that are now being placed in ware houses far less advantageously situated than is the Richmond wharf, there would have been an additional revenue to the city, not only for storage, but for tolls, which would have made a net profit to the City of Richmond of close to $50,000.

The lease of the Richmond Terminal corporation which was in effect for five years has expired, but this same corporation is still in possession of the docks, just the same as if it was the sole owner of the property.

And the City of Richmond is not receiving any revenue.

Why should a million dollar property be turned over to any company or set of individuals, without any recompense to the municipality?

The California Prune and Apricot Growers Association, a few years ago, offered to take the wharf on a long term lease and pay the City of Richmond $1500 a month or $18,000 a year net. No action was taken on the offer.

The Chamber of Commerce went on record a short time ago as being in favor of having the wharf conducted by a private company, believing it would be for the best interest of the city, and that the municipality would be deriving a revenue, instead of facing a steady deficit.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce adopted such a resolution by a unanimous vote, with the exception of one. The board of directors is composed of well known business men of Richmond, and is made up as follows: H. A. Johnston, E. B. Ball, C. S. Renwick, H. R. Carter, T. H. Delap, E. M. Downer, M. A. Hays, A. P. Hill, F. B. LaMoine, O. R. Ludwig, W. D. Mason, J. A. McVittie, S. B. Merry, F. S. Newsom, J. H. Plate, George N. Rooker, P. M. Sanford, J. P. Strom, Aubrey Wilson, and L. J. Younce.

A big terminal corporation of Oakland also made an offer a short time ago to handle the business of the wharf for the City of Richmond on a profit sharing basis, but members of the council, who were asked, stated the matter had not yet been brought to their attention. The details of the offer are not known at the present time but they will be published later.

Why face a deficit, when there is a profit for the City of Richmond, any time it wants to take it.

Official Is Named in Big Damage Suit

repeatedly denied any financial connection with the deal.

Jones declared that his client still contends that his arrest at the hands of Johnson was an attempt to "close his mouth."

The famous Wrightwood letters which Johnson claimed Goldman had taken from his secret files and which were seized in Goldman's safe deposit box when he was arrested will figure in this suit, as showing animus behind the arrest.

The "Oliver" referred to in these letters was James M. Oliver, Johnson's attorney, who admitted that he personally had a financial interest in the tract.

Goldman, a resident of San Francisco for sixty years, claims that the banking superintendent caused his arrest "willfully, unlawfully and maliciously" and without probable cause, and in doing so prevented him from attending to business and caused him to pay out $600 in council fees. The complaint also adds:

"Many persons, hearing of said arrest have supposed the plaintiff to be a criminal, whereby he has been injured in his good name and reputation to his further damage in the sum of $50,000."

He prays for that sum, plus the counsel fees, or a total of $50,000 plus costs of the present suit.

SNOW FALL IS HEAVY IN THE CENTRAL WEST

(By Universal Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—A snowstorm swept the over the Northwest today, breaking in many localities, October records. It was such a storm as might have been expected in December.

Snow began falling in Chicago early tonight with the temperature at the freezing point. The snow came in small flakes, like sand, and at dusk the ground was white. It was a real winter night in Chicago.

The storm extended from the upper Rock Mountain region to the Great Lakes and southward to Missouri, according to reports received tonight. In Montana and the Dakotas the storm assumed the proportions of a blizzard, the snow being driven by a high wind across the prairies.

The temperature was near zero at stations in Wyoming, Montana and North Dakota. It was below freezing over the entire Middle West, and frost extended down into Tennessee.

Iowa and Nebraska reported a heavy snow for the season. It fell over the cornfields, interrupting harvesting operations. In some districts potatoes had not been dug and sugar beets were still in the ground. It is feared the beet-growers will suffer heavy losses.

Recall of South S. F. Officials Is Demanded

SAN FRANCISCO Oct. 27.—Coming close on the heels of the dismissal by the city trustees of South San Francisco of Chief of Police Louis Belloni and Officer Walter Miller the fight to recall Mayor H. F. McNellis and Trustees Carl Blank and Hugh McCaffrey was renewed there today.

The Italian-American Citizens' Club is circulating the petition and the president of the club Dave Ratto stated today that sufficient signatures had been obtained to insure action.

The dismissal of the two policemen climaxed a political fight between the Mayor and police chief that started when Mayor McNellis ordered a shakeup of the police department on the strength of statements of Charles Goff, prohibition director, that the Southern city district was one of the wettest localities in the United States.

Belloni yesterday declared he was discharged because he "raided too many bootlegging establishments."

Spinning Wheels give way to golf clubs

Time was when you'd have sat all afternoon whirling the wheel, making the family linen. Now you put your roast and vegetables in your Wedgewood oven, set your automatic heat control and hie off to the links. A delicious dinner awaits your return home at six.

The new Wedgewood offers you still further time-saving. It cleans easier because of its glossy porcelain enamel surface, smooth flush front and polished closed top. It uses less gas. It gives you longer service due to Armco iron construction, Wilder metal rust-resisting oven linings, and heavy cast-iron front and oven bottom.
